DIPLOMATIC EYES ON MEXICO

The eyes of the diplomatic world have been turned so toward from the United States. Strained relations, with warning notes from Secretary of State Kellogg, have developed with Mexico because it is feared Mexican alien land laws, going into effect Jan. 1 and retroactive will confiscate American property. Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee predicts, however, that the matter will be settled amicably between the United States and the government of President Calles.

In Nicaragua, the United States has aligned itself with the government of Adolfo Diaz, who called for aid a week after he became president, charging Mexico with a "ding" the forces opposing him. American marines and naval forces are supporting him. Once before, in 1912, Diaz called upon the United States to keep him in office. Senator Norris of Nebraska joins Senator Borah in declaring charges that Mexico is spreading communism into all the country from its borders to the Panama Canal are propaganda and assert they will ask for all the diplomatic correspondence regarding Mexico and Nicaragua when the Senate is reconvened.

The United States has property rights for a canal through Nicaragua, which would relieve traffic through the Panama canal.

vinces now remain "dry." They are New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward and already it is announced that this trio are ready to go to the people in the immediate future on a government control of the liquor question election.

It is estimated by Ontario political chieftains that thirty residents of the United States will in 1927 spend in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 in the province of Ontario.

Toronto elected 15 "wet" members of the Ontario legislature and so the voting went across the entire province. Every Ferguson government cabinet member with but one exception was retained.

A great deal of unwelcome agonizing is done over folks who just dot on going to the devil. They resent interference.

FIERY, ITCHY ECZEMA HEALED RIGHT UP BY APPLYING SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthol Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritations, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles' Menthol-Sulphur from any good drug-gist.—Adv.

TOWN DEVASTATED, MANY KILLED AND INJURED IN TORNADO

Ruins at Heber Springs, Ark., health resort town, hardest hit of many towns in tornadoes that swept through Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, taking a toll of 82 lives, and injuring hundreds of others. Heber Springs virtually was wiped off the map, only a few houses standing after the storm's fury had been spent. Thirty Heber Springs citizens lost their lives and 150 were injured. The town is without light or water and the mayor has issued a proclamation forbidding fires for heating purposes and much suffering is being endured by the hundreds of homeless.

GENTLEMEN BURGLARS ENTER MARION GROCERY

Visit Without Reward at Yocom & Sons; Rearrange Canned Goods

New Flag Stop
Effective Dec. 1, Pottersburg, located 25 miles southwest of this city on the Erie Railroad, will be a flag stop for Erie trains 15 and 16 instead of a regular stop. Supt. Harry R. Adams has announced.

On Honor Roll
James Larimer, a fireman on the Toledo Division of the Hocking Valley, was among those on the regular monthly roll of honor. Mr. Larimer discovered a car with a broken journal and reported it immediately. He was cited for the roll of honor by Supt. W. W. Houston of the Hocking Valley.

Rail Briefs
George Del'ew, mechanical engineer of the Erie Railroad, Chicago Division, was in Marion yesterday. Mr. Del'ew has offices in Chicago.

Carl Mosher, traveling freight agent of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, was in Marion yesterday.

D. W. Jordan, traveling passenger

Burglars who entered the grocery of Yocom & Sons at 701 Bennett-st Tuesday night are entitled to be ranked among the most gentlemanly and considerate of their profession.

In entering the store, it was necessary to topple over a stock of canned goods cartons that stood in front of the window through which the intruders made their entrance. Before departing, the burglars went to the time and trouble of neatly reconstructing the pile of cartons in orderly fashion.

This work was done in spite of the fact that the visit to the store apparently was without reward, a check of the stock this morning having failed to show that any merchandise was missing. Money was the sole object of their search, police believe, and this quest was futile, due to the fact that the grocers had taken all of their funds home when the store was closed. Entrance to the store was effected after a heavy wire grating had been removed from the window.

"The family cow" is now the chief source of trouble for the city Meat and Milk Inspection Department. Dr. J. T. Gruber informed the City Board of Health at its monthly meeting, yesterday.

Dr. Gruber, who is head of the department, stated that thoroughly satisfactory conditions prevail in all of the local dairies and milk producing stations which come under his supervision, but that he is experiencing difficulty in keeping a check on sale of milk by individual citizens who keep cows for supplying their own homes, and which houses of a few neighbors. This is what Dr. Gruber and other inspectors throughout Ohio designate as the "family cow" problem.

Some officials present at the Board of Health meeting expressed the opinion that there is a city ordinance which prohibits residents of the city from keeping either cows or hogs on their premises and if such provision is in effect it is likely that health authorities will take steps to enforce it.

The report of Dr. Gruber disclosed that there are a large number of the so-called "family cows" owned by persons living in the city's outlying territory and that most of them have milk customers in addition to supplying their own homes. While this is contrary to provisions of the city's milk code, which requires all persons and companies marketing dairy products to take out permits, it is next to impossible for Dr. Gruber's department to maintain control over the family cow traffic, he informed the board.

Many of these cows, the inspector stated, are housed in small sheds with no sanitary conveniences or protection and as a consequence purity of milk cannot be guaranteed.

Dr. Gruber's statement followed reading by Dr. W. J. Weiser, city health commissioner, of a report of the recent state health conference held in Columbus. Dr. Weiser said that at the morning session of the conference on Nov. 10 the milk question was the main subject of discussion and that "thorough pasteurization of milk was emphasized as the only safe method of procedure."

An eminent authority on health and hygiene who led the discussion stated, Dr. Weiser reported, "that all tuberculous, irrespective of age at which its symptoms are manifested, is due to tubercle bacilli taken into the body early in life. This statement may not seem credible," the Marion health commissioner commented, "but investigation has shown how very prevalent it is among children, especially the pre-tubercular condition. A series of post-mortems in Vienna hospitals showed that 95 per cent of children that came to autopsy were tubercular by the time they reached their twelfth year. While all of these cases cannot be attributed to infected milk, yet we must infer that the milk drinking age is a dangerous age and that milk must account for a part, at least, of the prevalence of tubercular meningitis, to lymphaditis of joint and of bone, very common in early childhood."

CRIMINAL COURT IN TEARS
Newark, N. J., Dec. 2—A near panic reigned in court here, where three men were on trial for a payroll robbery, when fumes from a gas bomb spread through the room. The situation and the air was cleared when the windows were opened and it was learned that the four bomb men being demonstrated in the sheriff's office nearby.

LARGEST ELECTRIC SIGN
Chicago, Dec. 2—The world's largest electric sign will gleam from atop the Union railway station Thursday. The sign is 288 feet long and 23 feet high, with two lines of letters, the upper line of 12 letters stand eight feet high while the lower line contains 10 six foot letters.

THE "EYES" HAVE IT
Milwaukee, Dec. 2—If surgeons are successful in making mutual eyes grow in a human's head, Elizabeth Holden, blind will marry Fred C. Pratley, blind ex-cerics man.

Pratley has prevailed upon her to go to Baltimore with him for the operation in Johns Hopkins university hospital, but he won't ask her to marry him unless he regains his sight.

WHY OF MANY DEMOCRATS
Washington, Dec. 2—Because 103 out of 175 prohibition agents in New York City are Democrats, this does not mean the minority party is getting the best of the outgrowth. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said. He explained that the agents are not political in position and that the majority of people in New York City are Democrats.

HANGS HIMSELF
Newark, Dec. 2—Tying a rope around his neck and the other end to a rafter, Charles Richard Lingdelfter, 64, committed suicide by leaping through the hayrack chute in the barn at his home north of there today. Ill-health was blamed. He leaves a widow and four children.

Still, let us not be hasty in voicing condemnation should congress put over some flight-of-hand tricks on the country at the coming session of congress. It has been known to have pulled off stunts like that before Harry Houdini willed it his library.

Let's Help Push It Along.

The more we consider the plan of extending Mill street westward from Campbell street to Leander street, at least, if not to the Union station, the more it appeals to us. If the street can be thus extended, it will not only be an improvement of general benefit to the city by giving an added thoroughfare from the up-town district to the West Side, but also add vastly to the traffic capacity of west Center street, the only direct line we have to the latter division of the city.

It is generally recognized that nothing is so great an impediment to traffic as the heavy, slow-moving vehicle, and if vehicles of this description can be routed over the Mill street extension, it will easily double the traffic capabilities of Center street as it is today, without considering the added capacity the widening of the present roadway of Center street will give that avenue.

Another phase of the matter worth considering is that the extending of Mill street westward will give a lot of properties street frontages which they do not now possess and easily increase their values sufficiently to compensate for the value of the ground taken in extending the street. This is another argument in favor of the proposed extension.

But there is still another great benefit which will come from the proposed extension of Mill street which was not known to us in time to incorporate it in our comment upon the plans of the West Center Street Improvement association Wednesday. We refer to the promise of President Van Dine, of the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric company, to remove all light poles on west Center street if Mill street is extended and opportunity is given to run a line of poles along the new street. We question if any recent single improvement has done so much for the appearance of the up-town business section as the removal from its thoroughfares of the electric light and telephone poles. The removal of the poles from west Center street will add as much to its appearance as the widening and resurfacing of that thoroughfare and the extension of Mill street will add to its traffic capacity.

It's a fine project—this of the business men and property owners along west Center street. Let us all use our influence and best endeavors to push it along.

Repeal the Pence Law.

Every possible success is to be wished the Municipal Solicitors' Association of Ohio in its campaign to bring about the repeal of the Pence law, under the provisions of which public utility corporations are permitted to collect increased service rates while protests against such rates are pending.

The law is an unfair one, and never should have been enacted. That such a law could have been put over on the public demonstrates how careless of the public interests our state legislative bodies have been and emphasizes the necessity for the exercising of the utmost vigilance by the people of Ohio in the guarding of their interests. As we have pointed out heretofore, if a public utility is to be permitted to raise its rates at will and collect the increased rate regardless of protests filed, it is bound to lead to imposition if not to injustice. It will be recalled in this connection that one of our public utilities, while a protest against the increased rate was pending, actually raised its rates a second time and would have proceeded with the collection of the second increased rate had it not been stopped by the state public utilities board. And no better evidence of the carelessness of an attempted hold-up could be offered than that it was too coarse for even our state public utilities board, which is the most misjudged body in the state if it hasn't a leaning toward the public utilities.

Along this line we call attention to the position of the public utility corporations which maintain, in defense of the Pence law, that it is fair because it enables them to proceed with development work which would otherwise be held up indefinitely, because disputes over rates frequently go unsettled for years. Is not this very defense of the law evidence of a pre-supposition on the part of the public utilities that the state utilities board will approve the increased rates? Would they go ahead with their development work had they not such faith in the board? Lacking that faith, would they not hesitate about proceeding with development work in the light of the possibility that the board might rule against them?

Public utilities should receive fair return for the service they render, but they should not be permitted to make charges and collect for such services when the charges are such as to arouse question and to bring about protests merely by filing a bond to reimburse their patrons for any charges it may subsequently be decided are unlawfully made and collected. The advantage under such a system is wholly with the public utility and wholly against its patrons.

As we have said, we hope for the speedy repeal of the law.

Those Christmas Health Seals.

Marion's Christmas health seal quota this year has been placed at $3,000, and to the raising of that amount 3,000 seals containing 100 seals each have been sent through the mails. As announced in our news columns, Wednesday, it is the plan of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs to rely very largely upon the mails for the sale of the seals. There will be a one-day sale in the schools and some calls will be made in the business district, but chief reliance will be placed upon the mail for the distribution and sale of the seals. 3,000 letters having been addressed, as indicated, to all active and associate club members and to others whose addresses have been secured from the city and telephone directories and any and all other sources at the command of the Federated club women.

Naturally, in so large an undertaking, some names have doubtless been overlooked. Often in such cases the names of some who will be most glad to buy seals are among those thus overlooked. The fact that they have not received a sheet of the seals should not and will not prevent such from purchasing as has been their custom in the past.

The Christmas health seal idea is one of the best and most commendable forms of philanthropy ever conceived, for it permits participation by all to the extent of their means. It is more than a form of philanthropy. Not only does it afford aid and comfort to those suffering from a dread disease and ammunition for the battling of the great white plague, but it affords protection to those not suffering from it. In this way it is insurance against the contracting of a disease whose past victims total millions.

All of us should be glad to do our bit to aid in this great cause; all of us should be glad to do our part to wipe out this awful menace to the human race.

Things We Eat Keep Doctors Busy.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

We hear about the cruelties of war. We read every day about the deaths from automobile accidents. We know the hazards of modern industry. But all the deaths from these causes combined do not equal the deaths which can be traced to wrong eating.

There can be no doubt that more deaths are due to improper food, overeating and wrong conditions of digestion than to all the other causes of fatality I have given.

I wish we could get the public to understand how necessary it is to know how to eat, when to eat and what to eat. If everybody could receive the right education on this subject and then would apply his knowledge, most of the doctors would be arrested for idleness. They would have no visible means of support.

What sort of food you get at home depends on the housewife. It depends upon her knowledge of foods, her wisdom in selecting them and her skill in preparing them.

When you go to a restaurant, unless you are very familiar with the arrangement of the bill of fare, you will be hurried by an eager waiter into ordering food you do not want and which will do you harm. Perhaps, if you eat it. It is confusing to sit there with the waiter hovering over you, his pencil poised over his pad, waiting to take your order.

When you go to your tailor to be measured for a suit of clothes, he advises you about the pattern of cloth which should be selected. When you go to the shoe dealer he attempts to tell you the sort of shoe you should wear with your particular foot and the uses to which you will put your new shoes.

But when you go to the restaurant it is only an occasional waiter who will advise you. When he does advise, it is some exotic and high-priced luxury which will give you indigestion if you eat it. I never can understand this since it is to his advantage to have the restaurant popular and to have the customer return day after day. If he advises him to take some high-priced food or something which is liable to make the customer sick, he won't be back for three or four days or a week. The first bill will be a big one, but there won't be any for several days thereafter.

It seems to me much better for the waiter to advise a simple meal of real food. If we can only get the restaurant people to advise us about well cooked simple foods, we would not eat as much, but we would have health and appetite the next day and be ready to order another meal.

The selection of a meal requires knowledge. It is necessary for you to know how to choose with knowledge, founded on what your body needs. Then you must control your appetite and not overeat, because overeating of good foods is just as bad as eating a little of bad foods.

Give thought to the matter of eating in order that you may live long in this delightful world.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

- F. T. Q.—What should a girl weigh who is fifteen years of age and five feet five inches tall?
A.—Should pimples and blackheads be squeezed out?
A.—Do decayed teeth cause pimples?
A.—Will remove freckles? Is it harmful to the skin?
A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 125 pounds.
A.—Yes. For the proper treatment of pimples and blackheads send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and restate your question.
A.—No.
A.—Probably. If you find that it agrees with your skin you might continue to use it. I would suggest that you try equal parts of lemon juice and peroxide. Follow this by gently massaging the area with a good cold cream as the lemon and peroxide is apt to prove drying to the skin.—Copyright, 1926.

J. E. W. Q.—What would cause a child of nine to be troubled with gas in the bowels and constipation? She also bites her fingernails down to the quick. The child has a good appetite, but does not seem to have the interest in her school work that she formerly did.

A.—Some fault in her diet. Plenty of fresh, green vegetables, stewed fruits and their juices should be substituted for excessive sweets and meat. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. The child is probably nervous, and this affects her digestion. Painting the nails with tincture of asafoetida should break her of the habit of biting them.—Copyright, 1926.

And bent and slow,
If I shall cease to watch for you,
Where I may go;
And if my ears no more will strain
Your step to hear,
My heart perhaps forget to thrill
When you are near;
If I may then quite calmly go
Upon the street,
Without the hopeful, fearful thought,

Perhaps there'll be no hurt nor ache
Within my heart,
The bliss and bitterness you bring
May all depart;
And peace at last may lead me through

But, oh, I wonder what there'll be
To fill my days.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. How do passengers board the Los Angeles?
A. L. H.

A. Passengers for the Los Angeles are taken up the morning mast in an elevator. There is a gang plank from the top of the mast to the airship from which the passengers walk.

Q. What is certified milk? A. W. D.

A. Certified milk is produced on a farm approved by the milk commission of the medical society of the city in which it is to be distributed. It is put into special bottles and sealed with special caps, which are furnished to the farmer who has been given a permit to sell certified milk. The certified milk permit is awarded a farmer only after a committee of the milk commission has visited and inspected his buildings, his cattle, his help and his utensils. As a result of the exacting care given to the production of certified milk, it does not have to be pasteurized.

Q. What other cog railroads are there besides the one that ascends Pike's peak? F. R. E.

A. A cog-wheel or pinion engaged in a toothed rack on the track was patented in England in 1811. In 1812, a locomotive on this plan hauled coal from Middleton to Leeds, a distance of three and a half miles. A half-century later, Sir Robert Stephenson adopted this system for the Mount Washington railroad in New Hampshire on a gradient of one in two and a half. The rack had pin teeth cut in angle-lugs. In Switzerland, there has been considerable development of the rack railroad on the Alt

The entertaining Mr. George Bernard Shaw has written a will. He says he will sell it to the press for $250,000. Of course he would then have to reveal it to take care of this extra quarter million which he would make. Shaw's wealth is estimated at from two to five millions.

Rather than keep his will a secret or hold it back from publication at the price of $250,000 Mr. Shaw might do better to consult with others—even newspaper editors—as to the "best way" in which to spend his big fortune after death. Dead hands are poor guides of the destinies of the living.

People who believe that God interferes with the natural law has created have a hard time explaining why windstorms destroy whole families peacefully eating their Thanksgiving dinners. And earthquakes in Japan pull down the homes of missionaries and the headquarters of the Bible society in Tokio.

A God who would cancel the operation of natural law so that Kansas might have rain when properly prayed for might well deflect a tornado so that it would attack only the wicked.

The rain that falls on the just and the unjust might be spelled another way. For the reign of law applies to the just as well as the unjust.

Seminole Indians in Florida want to become citizens of the United States. Well, why not? We have worse than Seminole Indians in our citizenship. Would Seminole Indians take more interest?

The viewpoint of an outsider may teach us much. Outsiders usually observe and draw conclusions with less prejudice. Three representatives of the Berlin city government, looking into our city transportation systems, report that trolley cars and buses, working in cooperation, furnish the best service. Note the report says street cars should continue as the main means of getting about. London depends on buses more than trolley cars. Berlin find that a mistake.

Perhaps we shall all profit by the observation of outsiders. It is one of the real American problems.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Dec. 2.—Fiction has more New York detective a derided gem with a tawny toothed shoes and round hair cut. The wrights have tossed him a peachnut for incessant blundering with the crook giving the merry ha-ha at the final curtain.

There are several types of private and detectives who fit this picture. But the detected men from central office are vast, different. There is no standard type, a young man given to delirium fits and hate.

Others are sedately-dressed and middle-aged and still others are white-haired, frayed men who would look at home in a bank president's chair. When they talk with criminals they are the underworld jargon, but in a conversation their language is as precise as an average man's.

Any number are interested in music, painting and the arts and one is a bibliophile of mean standing. The nature of the work necessarily gives them an aloofness from the fellows. Their job depends largely on the unknown to the public.

It is not romantic that they often meet the most aristocratic gatherings with not the slightest suspicion they are not the number of them have followed tracks and the world successfully posing as leisurely men of wealth.

The underworld's snarling hatred for "dick" proves their competence. The public little realizes that if the detectives were gentler they could reap enormous fortunes. Any robber would split his loot without a murmur to have the trail left cold.

Scotland yard is noted for relentless purity. Central office is as doggedly determined. There are detectives today working on solved crimes five, ten and even fifteen years old. It is an inflexible rule at central office that no crime is unsolved.

After the same fashion perhaps no city such a target for abuse as New York. It is everybody knows to a certain extent, even natives. There is no explaining it, have noticed that few who live here are happy of time are happy elsewhere.

There are a million reasons for loving New York. For example: A confused old lady was trying to cross a rope street during a fire. A self-appointed guardian yelled, "You blind or just crazy?" and a bystander promptly stepped up and socked him on the jaw.

To say nothing of this sign in a Seventh avenue drug store: "It is a pleasure to sell stamens to strangers as well as our patrons."

Then there are the countless women who place food on doorsteps nightly for stray hungry cats and street workers who empty their pails and scatter crumbs for the birds.

A few reasons for not liking New York: Officious theater box office men, ill-bred pedestrians, torn-up streets, early-morning steel riveters and impudent taxi-drivers.

Added starter: A clerk who tells you No. 11 horse when you want No. 10 and lets you find it out when you get home.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS.

Neighbors have scrapped more or less since Adam's daughter went out and started keeping house next door to the old folks. I told. Some people never have fights with neighbors, but mostly these people have dogs, chickens, automobiles or babies. I'm funny what things the neighbors will do about, and sometimes they are right dignified folks, too.

But I was told about two fellows that I wouldn't fight. They lived right next door one another, in Philadelphia, maybe it was. One guy one morning started to apologize to the other.

"Say, Brown," he says, "I'm awful sorry that my dog chased your cat. Set up a dog of a row last night, when you were having company."

"Oh, that's all right," said Smith. "My company was drinking some of your wine, a never noticed it. I was just going to tell you about it. One of the boys made a mistake and took the jug out of your car, thinking it was mine."

"Why, don't mention it. That wine, though, I'm forced to apologize for. I had just taken it to be tested, and the druggist said it was poison."

"With a few of the boys did get sick, but that made no difference. But I set some, they may eat up your canary."

"Well, as far as that's concerned, my dog was chasing her just for that, and I was afraid to mention it, but he killed her."

"Oh, shucks, what's a cat more or less about? Didn't you know that when I was having company I was trying to bury my dog in your bluegrass?"—Copyright, 1926.

NO OVERTURES TO MAJORITY, INSURGENTS SAY

Will Not Bow to Caucus Regulations, Wisconsin Representatives Intimate

Washington, Dec. 2.—The western insurgents in the house never will do more than abide by the caucus system, members of the Wisconsin delegation announced today.

This answer to intimations of Republican leaders that the insurgents would be expelled if they enter party caucuses, somewhat dimmed the possibility of the impending senate armistice spreading to the house.

"I will never enter into an agreement with myself in advance on a vote," declared Representative Henry A. Pomeroy, the venerable dean of the insurgent land.

Moreover, I think that any man who does so violates his oath of office. I will never agree and nine times out of ten will agree with the result. I will not bind myself to caucus votes."

The insurgents will demand their right to be considered as Republicans, but will make no overtures to the majority, it was declared by Representative James A. Frear, also of Wisconsin. He endorsed the statement of Representative Edward Voight, who was not a candidate for reelection, expected to see his Wisconsin colleagues awarded party privileges by the Republican majority in the seventeenth congress which begins March 4.

The alleged reasons for this disaffection of the progressives will largely have disappeared when the seventeenth congress meets," he said.

"It is my opinion that the progressives will be accorded their rightful place."

The progressives, it was declared by Voight, will not apologize for their support of Senator Robert M. La Follette in the 1924 presidential campaign.

Representative George J. Schneider, another Wisconsinite, also asserted that the insurgents would be classed as Republicans, but would never petition the majority to restore them to committee.

Meanwhile, President Coolidge today assumed the role of peacemaker in an effort to smooth out the latest differences between Republican leaders and the insurgent bloc in the senate.

After disrupting previous peace negotiations by an "objectionable" appointment in North Dakota, the president invited Senator Gerald P. Nye, young insurgent, to the White House. They were to discuss the appointment of Colonel C. F. Mudgett as U. S. marshal in North Dakota.

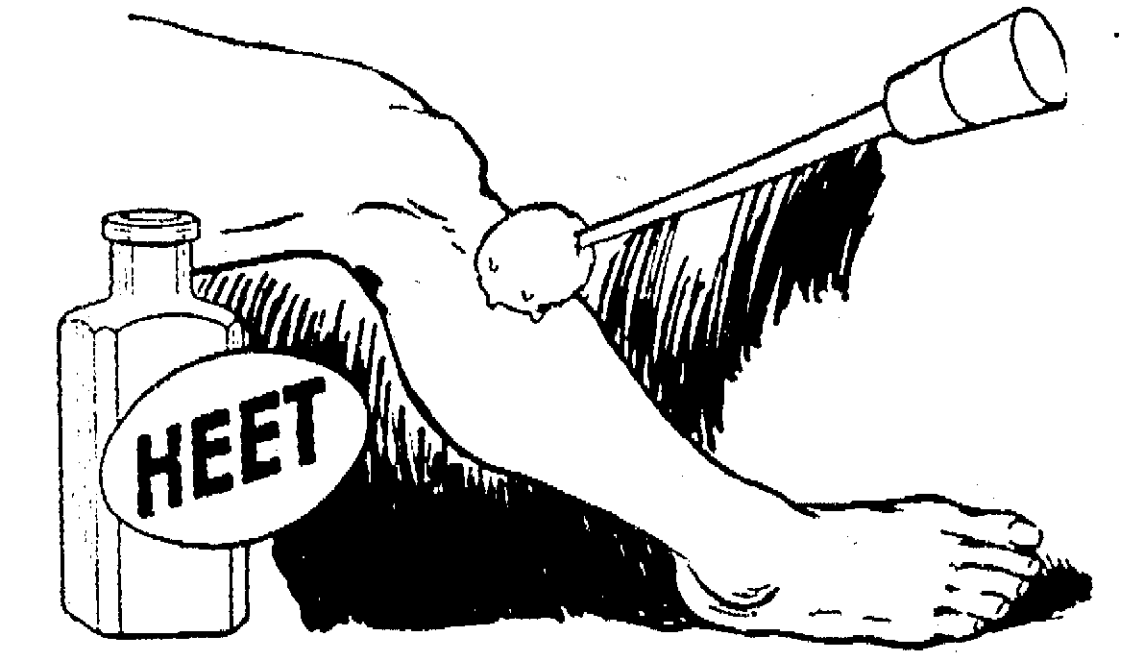

As Mudgett was named at the solicitation of L. B. Hanna, whom Nye defeated for the Republican nomination in the last primary, the appointment was bitterly fought by the insurgent bloc.

After conferring with the president this morning, Senator Nye declared "the situation is not irreconcilable."

"I think it can be ironed out satisfactorily," said Nye, leaving the impression that the nomination of Mudgett will be withdrawn, although he did not say so.

"We will oppose the nomination of Mudgett," said the North Dakotans.

administration to humiliate Wood, nor to criticize his turbulent career as military overlord of the islands.

Nevertheless, it is an open secret in Washington that much of the trouble in the islands is privately attributed to what for want of a better word is called Wood's military "brusqueness." It has been in almost constant conflict with the native leaders and politicians. It is also well-known that a change in the governor generalship of the islands was imminent just before the death of President Harding.

Not Anxious Claim
It is not that officials in Washington sympathize particularly with the native politicians who have been warring with Wood, for they do not. It is rather that they feel "an unfortunate situation" prevails in America's farthestmost possession and that it should be corrected.

Neither Senator Wadsworth nor Colonel Thompson are said to be anxious for the post, particularly the former, for both are still ambitious politically and the islands are far away.

Senator Wadsworth is regarded as an "ideal" candidate for the job. He has been chairman of the military affairs committee of the senate for six years and as such has come to have a fairly intimate knowledge of Philippine affairs. In addition, there, he is independently wealthy, has a flair for public service, and is generally so popular that even his Democratic colleagues in the senate expressed private regrets over his recent defeat. In the opinion of those who are urging his appointment, this quality of graciousness and popularity alone should make him ideally available for it will take a governor general with such qualities, however, to get along with the native leaders and remove some of the irritations of the Wood regime.

Wants to Run Again
Wadsworth, however, wants to run for the senate again in 1928, and that isn't far off.

Colonel Thompson is also regarded as an acceptable candidate by all factions. He probably has a better first hand knowledge of the affairs of the island than any other available man, due to his extensive tour of inspection just completed. His friends say, however, that he is not anxious for it for he has large business interests in Cleveland that would make it awkward for him to leave.

Colonel Stinson is said to be an avowed candidate. Since his retirement from the Taft administration, he has run for the governorship of New York once and was defeated. He is said to be desirous of getting back into public service.

CASE AGAINST FALL, DOHENY IS COMPLETED

Atlee Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts Close; Defense Begins Work

Washington, Dec. 2.—The government rested its case today against Albert B. Fall, ex-secretary of the interior, and Edward L. Doheny, multimillionaire oil magnate, on trial for conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing of naval oil reserves.

Atlee Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, chief government counsel, brought the government's case to a close soon after the trial opened this morning, and the defense then began its effort to tear down the federal indictment of the two "old prospects."

The last government witness was Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, who took the stand to present a letter he had received from Fall during the senate investigation three years ago, in which the cabinet official declared E. B. McLean, wealthy publisher, had loaned him the $100,000 under scrutiny, although the checks to that amount were never cashed. Fall swore further he was too ill to answer a subpoena to appear before the senate investigators.

"I can assure you that the loan was not from Mr. Sinclair—H. F. Sinclair, the oil operator—or anyone connected with the Teapot Dome or any other lease," Fall had written. With this parting shot into the vitals of the defense, Roberts and Pomeroy rested and Wilton J. Lambert, chief of Fall's counsel, launched into his evening argument to the jury.

Lambert was entitled to open at this late date because the defendants have separate counsel.

Frank Hogan, first Doheny attorney, addressed the jury at the outset of the trial when Roberts did likewise for the government.

About 50 witnesses in all have been subpoenaed by the defense. The first of them will appear today, including H. Foster Bain, director of the Bureau of Mines, and Admiral J. K. Robinson, who played an active part in the making of the naval oil leases, and Gang Dunn, president of the J. G. White Engineering Corporation.

MAN HELD ON ATTACK CHARGE STILL IN JAIL

Youngstown Mail Clerk Unable To Furnish $5,000 Bond for Release

R. E. Bishop, 42, railway mail clerk of Youngstown, arrested here Tuesday night on the charge of having attempted to criminally assault a 14-year-old girl, was unsuccessful in efforts to furnish bond of $5,000 necessary to obtain his release, and is held at the county jail awaiting action of the grand jury.

The amount of the bond was fixed by Mayor Earl M. Hazen after Bishop had pleaded not guilty and waived examination. It is reported that Bishop's attorney is planning to file an application in Common Pleas Court, asking for a reduction of the bond.

The attack for which Bishop is held occurred along the Hocking Valley Railway track a short distance north of Silver-st. The girl escaped from her assailant and Bishop was taken captive shortly afterward by several men living near the scene of the assault. Bishop asserts he is innocent although the girl identified him as the man who attacked her.

LAST OF THREE JINX SCHOONERS DISAPPEARS

Old "Salts" Around Norfolk Harbor Ready To Give Superstition Its Due

Doston, Dec. 2.—Mysteries of the sea, increasing with every rise and fall of the tide, have added another chapter with the disappearance of the four-masted schooner Eleanor F. Hertram with all hands, while bound from Norfolk to Puerto Cabello, Venezuela.

A one month trip, it is now, over three months since the boat left Norfolk and in that time not a word has been received from any member of the crew. Stern old salts, always ready to give superstition its due, when mystery or death hovers over a vessel, refer to the absence of word from the craft as the "passing of the third of a trio of jinx schooners."

About a year ago, the Boston Ship-brokerage Company purchased three schooners, to wit, the Tiffin, the Keenwood and the Eleanor F. Hertram.

The first to bear the alien call of Fate was the Tiffin when it foundered off West Palm Beach last January.

The skipper and three members of the crew survived. A month later the Keenwood met with a mishap off Bermuda and was broken up. The crew was saved. And now the Eleanor F. Hertram has disappeared.

The Tiffin was a schooner of 110 tons, the Keenwood of 100 tons and the Eleanor F. Hertram of 120 tons.

The three schooners were purchased by the Boston Ship-brokerage Company, which is now in the hands of a receiver.

Counties to show them how to administer justice.

"Are we a bunch of outlaws down here?" he thundered. "Haven't we got one along pretty well?"

"I hope, gentlemen of the jury," McCarter said, "that you were not fooled by the theatrical display when this pig woman was brought into the courtroom to testify, placed on a bed and a doctor put on one side and a nurse on the other to take her temperature and all that kind of nonsense."

"This theatrical display was done to make you believe she was on the point of death. I classify such a display as lumbago."

McCarter is a stocky, medium height man, carefully groomed, with a bulldogish manner, ruddy complexion, protruding underlip, balding, silver around the sides and back, and a benign expression in his bright blue eyes as he now and then peers over his glasses which seem to hang jauntily on his nose.

His voice booms and booms and now and then he utters a guttural "ah-h-h" as he grapples for the right phrase. He is the senior counsel for the defense, and shows by his grimace and gestures that he likes to talk to the jury. He is a lawyer of considerable experience and was formerly attorney general of the state of New Jersey.

Explains "Because"

Woman's ridiculed reason, "because" is based on intuition plus common sense! When pretty Miss Flo Meyer, 540 Fifth St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing Cream) is "the best ever," she's ready with excellent reasons! Black and White Peroxide Vanishing Cream never draws or dries my skin, or lets my face powder cake; but becomes instantly invisible, feels soft and cooling, holds my face powder on smoothly and beautifully for hours, and shields my skin from wind and dust.

You'd never guess its marvelous powder of protection—and of flattery—until you use the pure, snowy Black and White Peroxide (Vanishing Cream), soothing as mist, whitening and refining the skin wonderfully, very potent in holding in the natural oils which keep your skin soft, youthful and lovely. Living
TO HAVE AND TO HOLD
Loving

POSSESSION may be nine points of the law and yet have its advantages discounted by the potent little tenth point outside the legal pale.

There's marriage, for instance. According to legal, somebody "gives a woman to be married." Some man "takes" this woman for his lawfully wedded wife. And because the deed is sanctioned by church and court it is often taken for granted by those chiefly concerned that their future is settled and that each belongs to the other as long as the tithing shall live.

It is an ideal realized when this comes true. But that it doesn't, always, is proved by the steadily increasing number of divorces. There is a reason for everything, and the thinkers of the age, disturbed by the marital unrest, have been trying to find out the cause for it. There are those who blame it on that scapegoat, "The War," and those who blame it on the "Economic Crisis." And some say there is something the matter with marriage itself that could be remedied. These latter declare that an inordinate sense of possession is the root of all evil, because love, as liking, is a gift never delivered on demand or secured by legal tender; and that the average husband and wife insist upon considering love a debt due them on which they arbitrarily collect interest rather than realize it as a priceless boon bestowed at the will of the giver.

As a matter of fact, love fades in bondage and flourishes in freedom. Very likely the men and women of that period referred to as "The Good Old Days" realized that "to have" of marriage was not at all the same thing as "to hold." But they acted on the principle that what couldn't be cured must be endured, and continued in marital partnership long after love and hope of love had gone. Many modernists take different view and action.

"Love and its emotional reactions are essential to our happiness, to our self-development. If love fails us in one quarter we shall seek it in another."

This is their reasoning, and so many of them carry this reasoning through to a logical conclusion in Judge Lindsey's court as of a while ago.

Judge Lindsey is famous for the world around for the splendid work he has done with the delinquent children of the Juvenile Court. He has always stood for the finest of American ideals. Many of his statements were startling but out of all his experience he concludes:

"For my part, I think monogamy is the ideal for people to work toward in marriage. They should achieve monogamy, both physically and spiritually. If possible, I think that in a marriage which represents the real union of a man and woman they had each other as a partner, as of a whole, that they feel no inclination for experience outside their own marriage. They uniquely fill each other's lives. They are connoisseurs in love; they are so particular that nothing short of the authentic best, created by themselves to suit their own need and own taste, can satisfy them. Such an authentic best, of course, is not often built out of casual and casual contacts. It isn't the growth of a plant or of a wheat. It comes to perfection slowly, like a tree. A lot of people discover for themselves the inferiority of substitutes for this slow grown thing, and they quit their foolishness after a very little experimenting. They seem to want to experiment largely because they have been told they must. They think they feel a need, a 'repression,' but that feeling is merely illusion, a warped state of mind."

Judge Lindsey's meaning is plain. Happy the man who finds in the things that he hath contentment. And more to be pitied than scorned he who finds it necessary to taste stolen fruits to prove them bitter.

Living
TO HAVE AND TO HOLD
Loving

POSSESSION may be nine points of the law and yet have its advantages discounted by the potent little tenth point outside the legal pale.

There's marriage, for instance. According to legal, somebody "gives a woman to be married." Some man "takes" this woman for his lawfully wedded wife. And because the deed is sanctioned by church and court it is often taken for granted by those chiefly concerned that their future is settled and that each belongs to the other as long as the tithing shall live.

It is an ideal realized when this comes true. But that it doesn't, always, is proved by the steadily increasing number of divorces. There is a reason for everything, and the thinkers of the age, disturbed by the marital unrest, have been trying to find out the cause for it. There are those who blame it on that scapegoat, "The War," and those who blame it on the "Economic Crisis." And some say there is something the matter with marriage itself that could be remedied. These latter declare that an inordinate sense of possession is the root of all evil, because love, as liking, is a gift never delivered on demand or secured by legal tender; and that the average husband and wife insist upon considering love a debt due them on which they arbitrarily collect interest rather than realize it as a priceless boon bestowed at the will of the giver.

As a matter of fact, love fades in bondage and flourishes in freedom. Very likely the men and women of that period referred to as "The Good Old Days" realized that "to have" of marriage was not at all the same thing as "to hold." But they acted on the principle that what couldn't be cured must be endured, and continued in marital partnership long after love and hope of love had gone. Many modernists take different view and action.

"Love and its emotional reactions are essential to our happiness, to our self-development. If love fails us in one quarter we shall seek it in another."

This is their reasoning, and so many of them carry this reasoning through to a logical conclusion in Judge Lindsey's court as of a while ago.

Judge Lindsey is famous for the world around for the splendid work he has done with the delinquent children of the Juvenile Court. He has always stood for the finest of American ideals. Many of his statements were startling but out of all his experience he concludes:

"For my part, I think monogamy is the ideal for people to work toward in marriage. They should achieve monogamy, both physically and spiritually. If possible, I think that in a marriage which represents the real union of a man and woman they had each other as a partner, as of a whole, that they feel no inclination for experience outside their own marriage. They uniquely fill each other's lives. They are connoisseurs in love; they are so particular that nothing short of the authentic best, created by themselves to suit their own need and own taste, can satisfy them. Such an authentic best, of course, is not often built out of casual and casual contacts. It isn't the growth of a plant or of a wheat. It comes to perfection slowly, like a tree. A lot of people discover for themselves the inferiority of substitutes for this slow grown thing, and they quit their foolishness after a very little experimenting. They seem to want to experiment largely because they have been told they must. They think they feel a need, a 'repression,' but that feeling is merely illusion, a warped state of mind."

Judge Lindsey's meaning is plain. Happy the man who finds in the things that he hath contentment. And more to be pitied than scorned he who finds it necessary to taste stolen fruits to prove them bitter.

Behind the Screen

WHEN MAHEL NORMAND left the screen some years ago she was at the peak of her career as a comedienne. She had just branched out into feature length productions but in bridging the gap from two-reelers to hour and a half attractions lost some of the spontaneity which characterized her work in the short subjects.

Now after a prolonged absence from the screen Mabel is endeavoring to regain her place in the sun as one of the leading laugh producers in the industry. Among the short features which she has made for Hal Roach under her present contract are "One Hour Married" and "Lazarelli Rose." At present she is at work on "Anything Once."

Keep up the work, Mabel. The good fan knows how scarce are the comedies that can honestly be called "funny." Since the days when Mabel Normand and Babe Daniels romped around the comedy lots there have been very few actresses who have achieved outstanding recognition in this field. Nowdays after an actress plays in one or two pictures of this type the dramatic producers demand a contract before her and she promptly accepts it.

Back in the Biograph days Mabel was a model until her friend, Alice Joyce suggested that she ask D. W. Griffith for a job. She reached stardom when Mack Sennett made her a member of his Keystone Comedy unit.

Famous Players evidently still are considering making use of their $90,000 screen rights to "An American Tragedy." Mal. St. Clair, who has been assigned to direct it, announces he won't have a star play the role of Clyde Griffiths. He plans to test unknowns until he finds the right type.

"CASCARETS" FOR BOWELS, STOMACH, HEADACHE, COLDS

Clean your liver and constipated bowels to-night and feel fine

Get a 10-cent can now. Are you keeping your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage, very every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

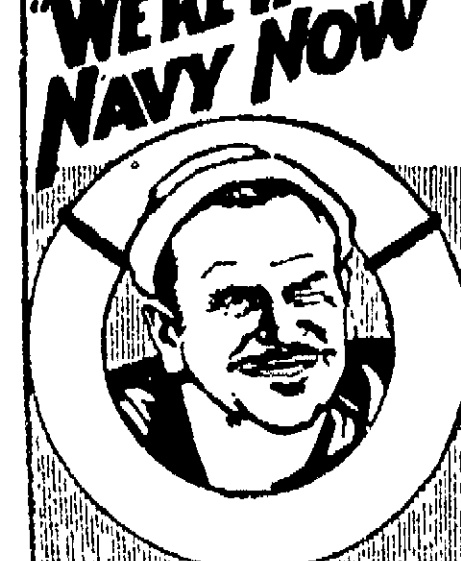

No odds how sick, headachy, bilious and constipated you feel a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing too.—Adv.

Remarkable Mechanical Equipment Used Here Traces Leaks in Street Railway Lines, Effects Great Saving

MARION'S four main public utility corporations, the C. D. & M. Electric Co., the Logan Gas Co., the Marion Water Co. and the Marion County Telephone Co., are carrying on a successful warfare against electrolysis, the destructive element which for a number of years did vast damage to the underground network of pipe lines which provide service for the customers of the water, gas and telephone companies.

This has been made possible through the operation of remarkable mechanical equipment which traces the course of electrolysis from breaks in the street railway lines to the pipes underground and enables the companies to stop leaks in time to prevent serious damage. Four of these recording devices, perfected by engineers and inventors employed by the W. H. Bristol Co. of Waterbury, Conn., are in operation at the office of the Marion Water Co. on E. Center-st., another is located at the Marion County Telephone Co. office on S. Main-st., and special recording equipment is operated at the C. D. & M. power plant.

These protective devices were installed in January, 1921, after it was discovered that electric current, shooting into the ground through hundreds of openings in the tracks of the local street railway company where there was no contact between rails, was eating away at the water and gas companies and threatened to do similar damage to underground telephone cables.

Most of the trouble, it was found, was in connection with the gas lines and up until the time that the Bristol recording equipment was installed, employees of the gas company were at work almost constantly tearing up streets of the city in search of leaks.

The situation became so serious that federal engineers finally came to Marion and conducted a city-wide survey, which resulted in the discovery that electrolysis was doing the destructive work. Recommendations that steps be taken to remedy the trouble were made and organization of what is known as the Electrolysis Committee resulted.

At first it was proposed that City Council adopt an ordinance providing measures for combating the menace. It was regarded as an important proposal from a municipal standpoint, but because of the widespread leaks in the gas mains created danger of fire and explosions which might bring about serious loss of life and property. Attacks of electrolysis upon the water pipes were also the basis of considerable work and concern on the part of city officials, who saw the possibility of the lines being damaged to the extent that the water supply might fail during a serious fire or some other emergency.

Action by Council, however, was unnecessary. Fire Chief McFarland took the initiative and brought about an agreement between officials of the C. D. & M., and the gas, water and telephone companies whereby the electrolysis committee was organized and the recording equipment purchased and installed.

Immediate improvement was noted and now such progress has been made that damage from electrolysis has been reduced to a minimum here.

The same difficulties were experienced for years in other cities throughout the country. Marion, it is said, was the first place to install the protective equipment and since then similar measures have been adopted in many other localities.

Through operation of the recording devices it is possible to detect track leakages and to find the source of trouble within a short period of time. Each of the four machines at the Water Co. office has contact with the city water lines in a certain section of the city, which is divided into four districts. Whenever a break in the street car lines permits electric current to escape and strike water lines at any point, the leak is immediately recorded on one of the Bristol ammeters and it is then a comparatively easy matter to locate the source of trouble and make necessary repairs.

Location of electrolysis attacks on water lines provides protection also for gas pipes and telephone cables at these points, since service lines of all the utilities are laid in close proximity. The recording equipment can not be successfully operated through connection with the gas lines, due to the fact that rubber gaskets used at joints in the pipes break the flow of the electric current.

Success of the protective system has been possible only through the ready and willing cooperation of the C. D. & M. Electric Co. Copper leads have been installed at all 44 joints over the entire city street railway service in order to provide a continuous line of contact for the passage of electric current and to eliminate leaks.

It is only when these bonds break or become disconnected that leaks occur and the Bristol recording equipment makes it possible to keep this trouble at a minimum where in former years there were hundreds of leaks continually doing damage throughout the city.

Two men are regularly employed by the C. D. & M. to do nothing else but keep the copper rail bonds in serviceable condition.

The Electrolysis Committee at this time is composed of W. B. Strayer, Marion's director of public safety, George Whysall of the Marion Water Co., and the C. D. & M. Electric Railway Co., A. J. Henry of the Marion County Telephone Co., L. C. Stang of the C. D. & M. and H. B. Hargreaves of the Logan Gas Co. H. B. Hargreaves of the Logan Gas Co., with offices in Columbus, is secretary.

Several sheets from the Bristol ammeters are collected each week by Fire Chief McFarland, who examines them carefully to ascertain if there is any track leakage sufficiently serious to call for special action by the committee. The situation has improved to such an extent that the work of the committee is slight.

The greatest difficulty at this time is experienced on Euclid-st., where passage of the heavy inter-urban cars frequently breaks the copper track bonds, resulting in electrolysis attacks on pipe lines underneath that thoroughfare.

During the last few months, workmen in the employ of the Logan Gas Co. have been tracing a number of leaks in the lines along Columbia and W. Center-sts. It was thought at the outset that this trouble had resulted from electrolysis, but investigation showed that the gas pipes had been damaged during construction of the city's new storm water sewer system last year. Considerable blasting was done during the progress of the sewer work and this was the chief cause of breaks in the gas lines.

This damage has been entirely repaired and the gas service lines of the city are now reported to be in excellent condition.

With the Bristol recording equipment continuing in operation local city and utility company officials say that there is no danger of electrolysis ever again threatening to cripple Marion's water, gas or telephone service. And until the present protective system was installed, electrolysis was probably the most serious of all menaces to efficient operation of these utilities.

SANITATION AND HEALTH GOOD IN MARION, CLAIM

Conditions Unusually Satisfactory, Officials Tell City Board at Meeting

Health and sanitary conditions throughout the city are unusually satisfactory at this time, reports submitted at the monthly meeting of the City Board of Health yesterday afternoon showed. These reports came from Dr. W. J. Weiser, health commissioner, Dr. J. T. Gruber, milk and meat inspector, and C. M. Tobin, sanitary inspector.

Dr. Weiser reported that while 12 cases of contagious diseases developed during the month, all are now well under control and all danger of a spread of the ailments has been eliminated. Included in the contagious cases reported to the commissioner during November were five of diphtheria, two of scarlet fever and two of typhoid fever.

The diphtheria situation, which appeared threatening for a time, was handled by prompt immunization and other safety measures employed by Dr. Weiser and Mr. Tobin.

Among precautionary measures employed by Dr. Weiser was examination of 100 pupils at the N. Mainst school, which was in the center of the territory where most of the diphtheria developed. Throat of 39 of the children were swabbed and the swabs sent to the state department of health for laboratory inspection.

Tobin's Work

Mr. Tobin, the Sanitary Inspector, who has had years of practical experience in the Health Department, had charge of combating the diphtheria menace during the week that Dr. Weiser and Dr. Sillit, County Health Commissioner, were in attendance at the state conference of Health Commissioners in Columbus.

Thorough inspection of 15 local dairies was made by Dr. Gruber during the month and all were found to be in excellent condition, he reported. He also gave the tuberculosis test to 21 dairy cows and found that all were without infection.

of the annual state conference of Health Commissioners, held in Columbus the week of Nov. 8-13. The local officer obtained much valuable information from the discussions.

An outstanding development of the conference came from an address by Prof. W. P. Laxson, bacteriologist of the University of Minnesota, who disclosed that experiments have shown that a preparation known as "castor oil soap" is effective for immunization against both diphtheria and scarlet fever.

Dr. Weiser predicts that this preparation will be in general use in immunization work in the public schools. He is of the opinion that the immunization program will include both diphtheria and scarlet fever in the future.

VETERANS ARE WARNED NOT TO BORROW FUNDS

American Legion Officials Advise Against Loans on Insurance

Warning that World War veterans should become thoroughly acquainted with the proper method of procedure before trying to obtain loans on their adjusted compensation insurance came today from local American Legion officials following the disclosure that illegal loans were made to 11 ex-servicemen in Marion County during the last few weeks.

The loans were all made by one man, reported to be a resident of the western part of the county. Discovery of the illegal transactions was made here about a week ago by an officer of the World War Veterans' Bureau from Cleveland when he came here to investigate an adjusted compensation case which took him into the western part of the county.

As a result of the disclosure, the man who made the loans faced possibility of losing his entire investment, said to total more than $1,000. Whether he recovers any or all of the funds depends solely upon voluntary action of the borrowers, who are not bound by law, it is stated, to make refunds. The insurance certificates, given as security for the loans, were taken from the man who made the loans and returned to the ex-soldiers.

Heavy Interest Charges
The Veterans Bureau agent learned that the loans called for payment of interest ranging from 15 to 25 per cent. Under provisions of the federal cost. Under provisions of the federal cost. Under provisions of the federal cost. Under provisions of the federal cost.

Loans on adjusted compensation insurance can not legally be made until Jan. 1, 1937. Legion officers state, and as a consequence, the Marion County "Shylock" would have found it impossible to enforce collection even if he had been authorized to advance funds on the policies.

Only certain banks designated by the War Department can legally make these loans. It is stated, and then only after the policies have been in effect two years. Practically none of the insured.

ILLNESS OF FIVE YEARS RELIEVED BY INDIAN TONIC

Another Amazing Experience Is Told About Redwood's Medicine by Cleveland Woman

When it is known that Redwood's Tepee Tonic has relieved hundreds of cases like that of Mrs. James F. Brown, 1228 E. 79th St., Cleveland, O., it is no wonder that there is an enormous demand for it.

REDWOOD

Mrs. Brown says, "I was ill for five years. I felt tired out from morning until night. I woke up in the morning with a sick headache and no appetite. What little I ate didn't nourish me. At times I was so bloated and full of gas that I could hardly breathe. Since I have taken three bottles of Redwood's Tepee Tonic, I feel like new. I sleep soundly and get up in the morning ready for my work. I am so much stronger that housework is a pleasure."

Redwood has made a life-long study of roots, barks and herbs and the success of his medicine has been as great as to astonish the drug trade. If you don't feel well try Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic. It has relieved others and it will also relieve you.

Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic is recommended and sold by Bradley's, Henner & Cooper's, Wm. Stump's, Bartlett's and all druggists in Marion: H. D. Kyle in Richmond, and by other well stocked drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

insurance was in force until Jan. 1, 1937.

Good After Jan. 1

While there will be a large number of ex-servicemen in Marion County entitled to loans after Jan. 1, they are being urged by local Legion officers not to take advantage of this privilege unless faced with absolute necessity.

It would be of little advantage to borrow on the certificates, the Legion heads say, since bankers must identify the applicants in addition to going through considerable other red tape.

The certificates after running two years have a loan value of about eight and one-half per cent of their face value. It is pointed out that their value as insurance policies is much greater.

The Marion County loan shark, it is stated, advanced considerably more than the eight and one-half per cent on the 11 certificates put up with him as security.

"This generosity" is what brought about his undoing. While the Veterans Bureau agent from Cleveland was in the western part of Marion County making inquiries regarding the adjusted compensation application which had called him here, the mother of a World War veteran asked for information regarding loan value of the certificates. When informed that only about eight and a half per cent of the face value could be borrowed, she expressed surprise and said that a man living nearby was making loans for as much as that percentage.

Provided with this clue, the Veterans Bureau officer and the investigation which resulted in forcing the loan shark to give up the 11 certificates upon which he had advanced loans.

studies must be of the C-plus standard or better.

Make Examination

Miss Hinklin and Mrs. Clara, Geer, nurse employed by the Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Leta Mangus, Red Cross nurse, are now engaged in conducting first examinations of pupils in all of the local schools for the purpose of detecting physical and health defects and recommending remedies. Children who register as normal and those whose defects are properly remedied will be entitled to receive blue ribbons at the close of the year.

In Mansfield it was found that the blue ribbon campaign was a valuable aid in school health work, all children being ambitious to earn the right to receive the decoration. Interest of parents is also greatly increased, with the result that efforts to raise the standard of juvenile health are much more successful than in the case when this special incentive is lacking.

The city has been divided into districts to systematize the work of conducting the examinations. Miss Hinklin being in charge in all schools of the East Side, Mrs. Geer in the southwest section of the city and Mrs. Mangus in the northwest section.

The blue ribbon movement, which will probably become an annual event in Marion, has been formally endorsed by the local Parent-Teachers Association and the Federation of Women's Clubs, both of these organizations having agreed to cooperate in every way possible.

At the city Board of Health meeting, yesterday afternoon, Miss Hinklin reported results of examinations at the P. S. Law school, held in November. She stated that of 227 children examined, 115 were found to have defective teeth, 125 with tonsils and adenoids needing removal or treatment, 61 were 10 per cent. or more underweight, five had defective hearing and three defective posture. Since this examination took place, seven of the adenoids and tonsil cases have been remedied by operations.

Correction of defects like those found at the P. S. Law school is the purpose of the city-wide examination by the health nurses and of the Blue Ribbon movement.

KEEP COUGHS OUT OF 'DANGER ZONE'

Coughing irritates the throat and makes you cough more. The more you cough, the harder it is to stop. And a cough threatens serious trouble if you let inflammation get into your bronchial tubes. It may spread into the "danger zone" for these tubes lead directly into your lungs.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops coughs quickly—almost instantly in spasmodic attacks. And it does far more; it brings lasting relief as its soothing, healing powers are absorbed deep down into the bronchial tubes, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

With the first swallow of Cherry Pectoral you feel its comforting warmth as it loosens up the tightness of congestion. It stimulates expectation—Nature's helpful plan for getting rid of phlegm and germ. Absorbed into the membranes themselves, this concentrated, hospital-proved medicine not only stops your cough but corrects the cause. And that is why relief is immediate and lasting.

Cherry Pectoral is pleasant, safe and dependable—for children and grown people. At all drugstores—10c; twice as much, $1.00.

Children Will Miss Him Christmas, Doheny's Worry as He Faces Jury

The jury in the Fall-Doheny oil conspiracy case now being tried in Washington, D. C. Left to right: front row, Christian Vogel, Herbert A. Via, A. E. Parker, Henry J. Briggs, William U. Farmer. Middle row, Vernon S. Snow, George E. Cobb, Clinton Carver, Chester F. Parker, W. S. Martindale. Rear row, Henry Byers and Stephen Vermillion. On the left and right of the front row are two guards. The average age of the jury is 33.

COURTHOUSE, Washington, D. C., Dec. 2.—Edward L. Doheny, oil millionaire, is not worried about the outcome of the criminal trial in which he and Albert B. Fall, former cabinet officer, are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of naval oil reserves. But he certainly is concerned about the prospect of missing Christmas with his grandchildren on the Pacific Coast.

"If I miss it," he laments to his friends, "it will be the first time since I've been a grandfather."

This simple homeliness which even the most humble grandparent in Marion can enjoy may be the one thing this oil man of millions cannot get.

BELIEVE FRENCH RUM RUNNER NEAR HAVANA

No Trace of Schooner That Kidnaped American Prohibition Officer Found

New Orleans, La., Dec. 2.—The French rum runner, Arsene J., with two kidnaped prohibition officials aboard, was believed heading Havana or Nassau today.

No trace of the schooner which put to sea after overpowering Assistant Prohibition Administrator J. B. Mattheus and a machinist's mate, has been found since she escaped in a gale Monday, Commander J. L. Brookway, of the coast guard cutter 302 reported by radio today.

Commander Brookway informed C. D. Jackson, chief dry administrator for his district, that in the 40 hours since her escape, the Arsene J. has had ample time to reach either Havana or Nassau. A report that the cutter 302 had overtaken the schooner only to lose it again when a towline broke, was found to be untrue.

Meanwhile, fear was expressed here that Matthews and the machinist's mate must wait in silence at the hands of the nine or ten men that comprise the Arsene's crew.

MYSTERY CLEARED AS BODY IS DISCOVERED

Solution to Fatal Shooting of Couple Obtained by Illinois Officials

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 2.—The mysterious disappearance of Fred Hoover last July following the fatal shooting of his sweetheart, Mrs. Anna Parks Lindsay and Herman Mason, another lover, at Canton, Ill., near here, was solved today when a partially decomposed body, found in a pig sty was identified as that of the slayer.

Enraged when he found his sweetheart with Mason, the day before the date set for their wedding, Hoover shot the couple and fled. A posse found his car near where the body was discovered. But a search of the surrounding fields at that time revealed no trace of the slayer. A gun, identified as the one used by Hoover, was picked up a short distance from the body. The remains, minus the skull, were unearthed by county officials after the owner of the farm had come upon his horse gnawing bits of a man's clothing. Hoover is believed to have committed suicide.

"Perfect Diamonds Only"

For as the trial lags on, the likelihood of getting back to Los Angeles in time grows dimmer.

But even while the heavy artillery of the government's prosecution bargues him hardest, the 70-year-old defendant has his youngsters' upmost in mind.

You Should See Them!

"You should see those youngsters," he said during a lunch recess, after a particularly long morning in court. "They're just fine. His eyes twinkled and a smile long absent in the courtroom, blossomed anew."

"Brought one of them on to Washington," he chuckled.

She is Dicky Bell, oldest child of "Ned" Doheny, the oil man's son, who carried the tag with $100,000 to Fall. He is charged, but "Little Pat," four-year-old favorite of Grandfather Doheny, had to remain in Los Angeles with three brothers and sisters.

Mention of the tag recalls the fact that it was not black, as so well advertised, but brown. Which, sidlight, together with the speculation of the cost of the defense (said to make the "million dollar counsel" of the 180-Mills case look like a bunch of pikers), seem the outstanding notes of the trial to date.

No one talks of the two-year jail sentence and heavy fine that may be in the offing if conviction is made and sustained.

And Jurors—Just Yawn.

Perhaps that is because there never has been a trial in which money talked so loudly. Millions are rattled off as if they were only on an adding machine. And the 12 jurors, of the regular work-day world where a few hundred dollars looks like a fortune, just yawn.

One can't blame them. They are virtual prisoners as long as the trial lasts. They are not allowed to go out.

SUSPECT HELD UNDER GUARD IN HOSPITAL

Georgia Prosecutor Asks Lima to Hold Man; May Be Wanted For Murder

Lima, Dec. 2.—With a deputy sheriff guarding him in a hospital here, Edward Concession, alias Jack Wilson, suspected of being a fugitive from Atlanta, Ga., wanted for murder, was being held pending advice from Solicitor General John Haykin, of Atlanta.

Concession, or Wilson, was brought to Lima from St. Mary's, Ohio, suspected of being connected with the robbery of a bank in Delaware last Saturday. He first gave the name "Jack Wilson," but later declared his name was Concession. He was suffering from a bullet wound in his leg, which he said he accidentally inflicted upon himself.

Although police here failed to connect Wilson with the bank robbery, Police Chief Miller, of St. Mary's, received a telegram from the Georgia prosecutor asking that he be held pending further efforts at identification.

Wilson, the man wanted in Atlanta, is under indictment for murder, as a result of the shooting of a grocer during a holdup in Atlanta during Christmas week last year.

Two other men and a woman were convicted of participating in the holdup, one being given the death penalty; the other a life sentence, and Ruby Day, Wilson's sweetheart, a five-year term for aiding the latter to escape after the killing.

MOELLER'S PETS DEFEATED BY KENTON OUTFIT

Mel Shaw Collects 21 Points in Game Ending with 64-36 Score

Kenton, Dec. 2.—What little wildness remained in Moeller's Pets of Delaware before their opening battle of the season was removed last night when Kenton's famous Reds handed the Delaware aggregation a 64 to 36 defeat on the armory floor here.

The game marked the sixth annual battle of two of the oldest clubs in this section of the state. The victory of the Reds last night ended up the series with each team winning three games.

Mel Shaw was the big scoring star of the game slipping past the Pets' defense for a total of 21 points. His work under the basket was very fine with but very few shots being missed. "Skip" Shea made his first appearance on the local scene making a great hit with local fans by scoring 13 points.

"Chick" Harley, who made himself immortal in the hearts of football fans of Ohio State University, participated in part of the game scoring three baskets. He was given a great ovation when he was sent into the game for Johnny Mauer.

Stewart, with his long "shots," was the outstanding star on the Delaware outfit scoring fourteen points. Haskins also proved a star in the last half by scoring ten baskets.

The first quarter last night started with a rush with the Reds finding the hoop for a total of sixteen points while the Pets were compelled to be satisfied with five.

The last pace of the first period continued throughout the second frame with the Reds being held to eight points by the Delaware team's six. This was the best section of the game as both teams played a fairly even game.

After the half Kenton went into action and ran their score up fifty points while Moeller's team managed to slide through the defense for a total of 16 points.

MT. GILEAD PLANNING INTRAMURAL GAMES

Same Standing Required as Is Necessary for Inter-Scholastic Competition

Mr. Gilead, Dec. 2.—An extensive program of intramural athletics will be inaugurated in Mt. Gilead high school in the near future in order that as many as possible of the students of the school may participate in athletic activities.

A basketball team will be organized and developed in each class of the Senior High school, for both boys and girls. Members of the varsity will not be eligible to participate in these games. The same requirements for participation in these games will be enforced as are held in regard to interscholastic contests.

An emblem in the form of a letter will be awarded each team member and a trophy will be given the team winning the championship of the school.

As soon as the varsity practices and schedule is well under way, a schedule of games will be arranged, so that each team meets every other team. The games will be carried on much the same as interscholastic competition, with captains and managers chosen for each team. Members of the varsity squad will officiate at the games.

This program is being promoted to answer the common charge that athletics reach only a small per cent. of the students of the school.

Startling Free Offer to Sufferers From DEAFNESS Head Noises from Nasal Catarrh

25,000 Trial Treatments Free This Month

Dr. W. O. Coffee, practicing physician of Davenport, Iowa, one of the most widely known specialists in the middle west, has originated a treatment, which completely restored his hearing and ended his head noises from nasal catarrh.

He is so proud of this treatment and believes it should help others, as it has him, that he offers to send it absolutely free, for trial, to the readers of this paper, who are suffering with deafness, dullness of hearing and head noises from nasal catarrh.

He restored his own hearing and ended his head noises by this original treatment after he had suffered for years. Two operations, and other remedies were tried without avail before he finally originated this treatment that ended his suffering.

During the past three years he has prescribed for more than 200,000 people afflicted with deafness, dullness of hearing and head noises from nasal catarrh and with catarrh; he has, in his office, the records of literally hundreds who regained their hearing by his home treatment.

More than 90 per cent of deafness is due to nasal catarrh, either in the wet form or the dry, the doctor says, and he urges everyone who suffers in this way to take advantage of this limited free offer. Catarrh may cause indigestion, rheumatism, stomach ills and many other diseases.

Dr. Coffee wants every sufferer from deafness or head noises from nasal catarrh to write him this month; he wants everyone to test this treatment that has restored hearing to so many people.

And remember—these trial treatments are sent absolutely free. So write today—send at once, this notice may not appear again.

DR. W. O. COFFEE
NOTED DEAFNESS AND CATARRH SPECIALIST

Dr. Coffee's Wonderful Experience

Few specialists in the entire United States have had as wonderful experience as has Dr. Coffee, a nationally known figure in the treatment of deafness, head noises and nasal catarrh.

He has devoted over 45 years of his life to treating eye, ear, nose and throat diseases. By the use of his perfected home treatment, patients are now able to treat their deafness, head noises and nasal catarrh right in their own home. This has been the means of restoring hearing to thousands, they say.

A great number of people state that they have been deaf or partially so for five, ten and even twenty years, yet their hearing has been restored by Dr. Coffee's famous home treatment. It has banished their deafness and head noises, they say.

And in addition to this enviable record, he has freed thousands of people from catarrh, with which they have been burdened.

He especially urges those sufferers who are troubled with a mild form of deafness or head noises from catarrh and who are hard of hearing in one ear and growing worse with every cold, to try this original treatment. They are as a rule, the doctor says, gradually losing their hearing and he believes his method will restore it.

He asks no money from you for this free trial treatment. He pays the postage—it arrives at your home prepaid, with directions as to how it should be used. Many people have written him that his free treatment alone has restored their hearing. It won't cost you a cent to try this treatment in your own case.

GEORGE BISHOP
Restored Hearing in One Month

Mr. George Bishop of Sask. Canada, says, "I had been growing deaf for 12 years and had been to some of the best hospitals in all Canada and even submitted to operations without success. I spent hundreds of dollars but gradually grew worse. I became so bad that people had to talk directly into my ear, if I was to hear. By using Dr. Coffee's treatment, my hearing was restored in one month's time. I wish that every sufferer everywhere who is afflicted as I was would give this wonderful treatment a test. It is wonderful."

Hearing Restored at 86

"I had suffered with nasal catarrh for seven or eight years; I had terrible head noises, my hearing was bad. It was necessary for people to talk loud, otherwise I could not hear them. I used Dr. Coffee's home treatment for four months, and it restored my hearing to such an extent that I can now take a part in an ordinary conversation. The head noises are a thing of the past. I am 86 years old."

J. C. Patterson, Indiana.

Wonderfully Improved

"I received your treatment for catarrhal deafness and in just three days after I had used it, my hearing began to improve. And now I am wonderfully improved."

D. H. Carpenter, Alabama.

Cured Nasal Catarrh

"I was a victim of catarrh for ten years. I had doctored everywhere, but found no relief until I started Dr. Coffee's treatment. Prior to this, I had a constant discharge from my nose and head; I was rapidly becoming deaf. Now I can hear exceedingly well, my head has quit aching, and I feel like a new woman."

Mrs. C. Bloomfield, Alabama.

A Wonderful Treatment

"I want to tell you that yours was the most wonderful treatment I have ever used. I had a violent roaring in my head, and felt dizzy constantly. Now I feel much better, and my hearing is practically restored."

Mrs. Ethel Godbault, Florida.

Restored Hearing

"Your treatment has brought back my hearing. I can hear now as well as I ever did, and I want to thank you."

E. Micheaux, Texas.

Nothing Else Relieved Me

"Nearly four years ago, nasal catarrh caused me to lose my hearing; distressing head noises and intense pain followed. No treatment seemed to give me relief until I used Dr. Coffee's home treatments. In less than six months, the catarrh had disappeared, head-aches left me, and my hearing was restored."

A. Glenn, Illinois.

Well in One Month

"I am feeling very much better—no more head noises, ringing or pounding in my ears. My hearing is as good as ever. Dr. Coffee's treatment relieved me in one month. Before this I had been treated by specialists for nearly six months with no benefit."

George Petersen, Washington.

Head Noises Gone

"I have been greatly helped by your treatments. I had been troubled for years with violent head noises and finally a friend advised me to try your method; he sent for the treatment himself. I noticed improvement at once, and now I am well as ever. I feel greatly indebted to you."

Mr. C. McGinnes, Pennsylvania.

Hears as Well as Ever

"I am now able to hear as well as I ever did. My head, throat, nose and ears are in good condition. One month's treatment did its work well. I am grateful to you, and you may use my name for reference."

Peter Moraz, Pennsylvania.

Hearing Restored as in Youth

"My hearing has been restored through the use of your treatments. I can hear as well as when I was a young girl."

Mrs. T. C. Gamberg, South Dakota.

MRS. MONA MCBRIDE

Chronic and Acute Deafness Ends

Mrs. Mona McBride of Illinois says, "This is to certify that since having scarlet fever, when a little girl, I have been hard of hearing, and for the past four or five years I have been almost entirely deaf in one ear. A few months ago my left ear began to discharge. I found it to be abscessed and discharging a foul fluid. Nothing seemed to stop it and finally I tried Dr. Coffee's treatments. To my surprise and delight the hearing in the ear which was partially deaf for nearly 20 years has returned and the abscess has healed. Now I can hear a conversation six feet away. I didn't believe it possible and I certainly advise anyone suffering with deafness to try this treatment. I obtained relief in a short time."

Freed After 48 Years

"I had been gradually growing deaf for 48 years. I had not been able to hear over a telephone for 17 years. I had been to specialists in Berlin, Paris and London, and found no relief. Dr. Coffee's treatment restored my hearing so I could hear over a telephone in either ear, quite plainly. I no longer suffer with intense, head noises."

Mrs. M. Sherier, Missouri.
